FINANCE AND TRADE.

MEMPHIS BANKS have had another opotonous week, and the situation liffers in no respect from what it was a week ago. The shock caused by the bankruptcy of Duncan, Sherman & Co. eaused operators to suspend what little perations were going on, for a day or wo, but everything has resumed the abitusi routine. The New York Triounc makes the following remarks: Wall street and the exchanges fell sack yesterday into the midsummer ulet which prevailed before the failure of Doncan, Sherman & Co. and the Commercial Warehouse company.

That so sharp a shock to confidence as was caused by the suspension of a great banking-house should be followed so speedily by a restoration of tranquillity mong those persons not immediately involved in the firm's misfortunes is proof of the general caution with which siness and banking are now conducted." In exchange the merest nothing s doing, and rates continue as they have been quoted for months; on New York buying at par, selling at i premium; on New Orleans buying at } discount, selling at par. In the local securities market nothing of note has transpired. There is occasionally a quiet Inquiry after Charleston railroad ock at Sc, and Memphis gas stock is occasionally inquired about. We quote Shelby county scrip at 75@77; fire and Delice were at 86@88; school notes 93; State notes 79@90; Bank of Tenuessee, new lesne, 20. An expected transference of an esteemed bank official to a new position will, we learn, be consummated to a seek probably on Wednesday, to position will, we learn, be consummated July 18, 130,300,300,372,222,37, this week, probably on Wednesday, tomurrow. Gold is very changeable and brokers ecarcely know what to offer for it so as to avoid loss, Ill; was about the outside; in New York the quotation was as low as 1121, but closed at 1121.

OUR REVIEW of the cotton market York at 141c, which on Monday became 141c; on Tuesday 141c, on Wednesday 141c, on Thursday 141c, New Orleans closed the previous commercial week at 14je, but began the week under review t 141c, which it retained throughout. Liverpool quoted at the end of the previous week 6 15-16d, but advanced next day to 7d and on Tuesday to 7 1-15d, with a rising tendency. Memphis closed the previous week at 14½c, but fell on Tuesday to 14±c, which figure it has still retained. This statement shows the market in a very low condition, owing to the failure of Duncan, Sherman & Co. and other unfavorable inluences, especially the closing of English mills, but we find that the bottom has been touched, and that there is already a reaction. New York during the week declined jc, New O. leans ‡c, Liverpool advanced ‡d, Memphis declined ‡c. The advances toward the end of the week show that we are on a better footing, the improvement in Liverpool is especially favora-ble. In Memphis we have little over 3000 bales on hand and our market is therefore very quiet, but during the week holders have had strong confi-dence that prices had seen their lowest and would turn favorably, and for two-thirds of the week their figures have sen less sustained. The failure of Duncan, Sherman & Co., a great cotton house in New York, fell like a bombshell upon the trade, but it soon appeared that-owing to the time of the year it took place-all accounts between that concern and the south were closed, and whatever in avorable influence it may have caused as fast disappearing. The New York Bu letin says of it: "It is now generally understood that the failure le due to causes which do not equally affect other banking firms, and therefore the first shock to confidence is disappearing, and the event is looked upon Secretary of the final region of the special property of the special prope as one of the later effects of the speculative banking which months ago brought down weaker houses " Another influ-ence that has some effect on the maran accumulation of goods and yarns that the question of a resort to short time and diminished production, as a necessity under the circumstances, is seriously considered." The report adds: "We have a total definit on the second inmained at work. The result of all these circumstances upon the opening of the approaching new season is a subject for anxious and careful consideration. Our most experienced cotton men look for very low prices. If it prove so the south will have reason for thankfulness that it

The Chicago Tribune of Saturday reported: "The early tendency in breadstuffs was to strength, chiefly as a consequence of weather news. Many letters were re-ceived from different parts of the country around us, nearly all of which had he same burden-too much rain. Some of them stated that vast tracis were utterly ruined; others, that the most hoped for in their section was that the grain could be used for feed, and very few were hopeful of a yield that would more than pay for the cost of harvesting. In one or two instances it was reported that all one way, so that the reaper could take hold of it by 'going against the grain.' The Chicago Tribune of Saturday says: "Were quiet, except in transfer from August to September, and exhibit-ed little change in prices. Hogs were in good supply, and easier on the packing grades, while New York was lower on product, which fact tended to restrict the arder of buyers here without making sellers auxious to dispose of their property at a decline. The August deveries were nearly all provided for previously, so that there was no pressure to place lots expected to be recieved next Monday. The premium on pork futures has, however, widened perceptibly within two days past under the more liberal offerings for August, and the difficulty of selling it unless the seller would buy for September at the same time. There is plenty of capital ready to carry pork products for others, but capitalists do not seem over-anxious to invest on their own account." POTATOES-One house is offering $1 a barrel for three or four car-loads.
